

THE Scoop IS IN!

Last month, you cast your votes, and now the results are in the hands of the ice cream experts! Our friends at La'Creamian have taken our very own City Center honey and turned it into two delicious, custom ice cream flavors inspired by your top picks:

Apple Honey

A sweet, fall-inspired combination featuring the perfect touch of Beelizabeth's honey.

Baklava

A rich, decadent flavor inspired by the classic dessert & even sweeter with Beeatrix's honey.

But there's one more vote to cast!

This October, we're inviting tenants to "Bee the Judge" at a special tasting event. Sample both flavors, pick your favorite, and help us settle a little friendly hive rivalry: Will Beelizabeth's or Beeatrix's honey+ice cream combo bee crowned the sweetest winner?

Find us at La'Creamian's ice cream cart in the 203 Cafe lobby to cast your vote:

More than just Honey

here in the heart of downtown. Recently, our hives attracted a fascinating visitor called a Robber Fly, a native Texas insect that, at first glance, looked remarkably like an oversized bee. Easily two or even three times the size of a honey bee, it had a fuzzy, bee-like body, long legs and a pointed abdomen. Some species of robber flies are such convincing mimics that they can easily be mistaken for bumblebees. But despite the disguise, robber flies are actually skilled aerial predators, using their strong legs to capture other insects in flight. Our visitor may have been attracted by all the activity surrounding the hives, and it's even possible a few of our bees were on the menu. As they say in The Lion King, "it's the circle of life!" Discoveries like this are part of what makes our bees so special. The hives aren't simply producing honey; they're creating opportunities for us to observe pollinators, discover other native insects, learn more about the ecosystem around us and start conversations we might never otherwise have. From honey harvests and delicious ice cream treats, and tenant activities to unexpected wildlife encounters, our bees continue to create quite the buzz at City Center and remind us just how much life can be found, even in the middle of downtown.

We can call him
"Bobbee" the Robberfly

The Hunt is Over, but the Squishies Live On!

The Squish & Seek game may be over, but you don't have to keep seeking to find your next squishy! Sherry's Gifts & Snacks has a great selection of the latest and greatest NeedDohs and squishies ready and waiting just for you! And don't be fooled, squishies may be one of the latest crazes for kids, but adults love them too! Whether you need a little stress relief, a desk buddy, or just can't resist adding another one to your collection, stop by Sherry's in the Bank of America tower for your squishy fix!

QR Code Reminder

Please remember that visitor QR codes are intended for clients and customers only, and should not be issued to contractors or vendors performing work within your office space or the building.

Contractors and vendors have separate building access and security procedures they are required to follow. Please direct them to the loading dock for proper check-in and access:

City Center Loading Dock

Fort Worth, TX 76102

Food Locker Pickup Reminder

To help keep the lockers available for incoming food deliveries, the City Center Operations team will remove any items left in the lockers for more than three hours. Non-perishable items will be temporarily held for pickup in the City Center Security office just around the corner from the food lockers. Any food items that have not been retrieved within the three hour timeframe will be discarded.

We're excited to share that an Amazon Locker is now available at City Center, giving you a convenient and secure way to pick up eligible Amazon orders! To select our City Center location once you've selected your item(s):

Proceed to Checkout and look for Pickup Locations in the address section. Next, select 'Find a pickup location nearby', then search for the locker at 205 Commerce Street Fort Worth, TX 76102 and choose Amazon Locker – Abbe as your delivery location.

If the following applies, your order is eligible for Amazon Locker delivery:

- The shipping weight is less than 10 lbs.
- The product dimensions are smaller than 16 x 12 x 14 in.
- All items are sold or fulfilled by Amazon.com.
- The total value is less than $5,000.
- The shipment contains no hazardous materials.
- The order does not contain Subscribe & Save items.
- The order does not contain items shipping from other countries.
- The order does not contain items for Release-Date Delivery.
- The Locker will not be used as a delivery address for a wishlist.

To pickup from the locker, you'll need a smartphone with the Amazon Shopping app installed. When your package is ready for pickup, the app connects to the locker using Bluetooth Low Energy (BLE). Then simply follow the instructions in the app, tap the button to open the locker, and retrieve your package.

Happy shopping and enjoy the convenience of Amazon pickup right here at City Center!
